RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN LIVERS OUT AND THE COLLEGE

---

Theo: Some livers out have told me they feel neglected in how little they've been told about the situation by college officers. They are generally feeling out of the loop.

Grace: Is this college or the JCR?

Theo: College. They're just laying down the law and not taking the time to explain to people living out.

Emma: As a JCR we can keep a dialogue open but college officers have to think of and focus on the wider community. It's difficult to consult students on every single little issue.

Mike: I think they mean that college decisions are not being communicated.

Theo: What about tredit?

Lydia: The university is just at a standstill with the insurers at the moment.

Nat: Is there any merit in asking Prof. or Latham to start a regular email with the JCR?

Mary: Yes a lot of their emails are very negative.

Alex: That's because this year has been horrific and a lot of negative things have happened.

Xander: We could give them a spot in the weekly email.

Theo: Just a line from prof. would be really good.

SUPPORTING NAT AND OTHER EXEC MEMBERS

---

Nat: Lots of people have got lots of things on, especially James with a big event coming up next week. I have three formals in the next three weeks, there's the housing campaign.

Grace: Look after each other.

Lydia K: Make sure you delegate

James: Janice sent an email saying she wasn't aware Trevs Night was going on this year so I need to sort that out. I'm aiming for Charity Ball on the first Friday of next term.

Mary: Can we have a social calendar for next term?
